FIRE & SMOKE CURTAINS (UL-LISTED)

We provide fire and smoke curtains that are used when it is necessary to create a temporary barrier within an opening to seal off the area affected by fire. Our curtain systems automatically descend and prevent the spread of fire and smoke from one area to another. They are also designed to allow safe access to protected escape routes without compromising fire resistance.

Application :

1. Elevators and Elevator Lobbies
2. Warehouses
3. Escalators and Staircases
4. Corridors and Escape Routes

FIRE RETARDANT PAINT (UL-LISTED)

Fire retardant paint protects the structural components of your building during a fire. Our range of paint can be applied to steel structures, concrete, and more, offering a high level of protection. We supply UL-listed fire retardant coatings that can protect structural elements for up to 4 hours.

WHAT IS FIREPROOFING

All materials weaken when exposed to high temperatures. For steel, it is well-established that at 550°C, hot-rolled structural steel retains only about 60% of its strength compared to its room temperature performance. This has led to the common assumption that 550°C is the maximum (limiting) temperature a steel structure can withstand before failing or collapsing.

Types of Fireproofing

LIGHTNING PROTECTION SYSTEM (LPS)

We specialize in the complete design, supply, and installation of Lightning Protection Systems (LPS) for industrial, commercial, and residential buildings. Our solutions include both conventional and Early Streamer Emission (ESE) systems, ensuring maximum protection against lightning strikes.
